. Heven Sends Thanks tu Erth

Our Scriptures repeatedly advise us tu giv thanks tu heven for the gifts we hav been and continue tu be given. Warever the world's grait religions ar practiced, a day – and feast - of thanksgiving is prescribed at the cloze of the harvest season evry year.

I offen wish this holiday wer ofical & government-sponsord in England and in evry cuntry on erth. That wud help tu counteract the selfishness that was over-encurraged all thru the 20th century. Thare was a wel-intended but mistaken beleef all thru that time that the anser tu the world's problems was tu let the children mor or less raiz themselvs and each other without spankings, punishments and lectures from adults..just be suportiv. I was a scool teacher, I was thare, I was required tu follo thru on that filosofy.

One bad rezult was that the children, not knoing how much sacrifice was being made on their behaf, faild tu lern gratitude.

But wot I'm going tu talk about here is not us giving thanks to God, or even us giving thanks tu each other. It goes the other way. Wot if heven wer grateful tu erth, and wanted tu express it?

I'm suggesting that that is true, and I can tel u mor about it based on my ongoing conversacions with my frends and co-workers in that world...the world ware good and evil ar stil fiting for supremacy.

The good guys in heven ar struggling tu restore life. The bad guys, the hellions, ar hanging ontu the attitude of the predatory beast who livs, on principle, by robbing others...always at the expense of others. Sum of the moast extreme predators wil not tolerate even their oan mates and offspring – in heven as on erth. As the scriptures suggest, God and the good guys hav had a struggle tu maintain the upper hand in heven.

So then, dus heven hav sumthing for wich tu be grateful tu erth? Yes. Dus God get tu enjoy the "sweet savor" prescribed & - sumtimes - offerd on his altars on erth? Not always, since the atackers out thare hate tu see him & his folloers enjoy enithing, & they interfere a lot.

However I have been telling my friends out there about the accomplishments of earth. They are comforted & impressed by this. But they are human, and they react like humans to the news about a place where there are great riches to be found.

I find myself forced into the position of peacemaker, of diplomat. I give warning: Do not think of earth as a place for you to plunder, to rule over, to colonize. If you arrive on earth, blowing the trumpet and announcing "You may all now kneel before us!" The earthlings will do nothing of the sort. They will fight back....perhaps even the Christians, since they will not know who you are. There will then be war again. Heaven will have won its war against the Beast in heaven only to find itself in a new war, this time against the earth.

No, I say, heaven must show gratitude for the support it has received from earth. What support from earth, you may ask? - & they ask it. I tell them, "You citizens of heaven need to be very grateful for the support God - your God - and his goodness have received from earth thus far. If and when God &/or his son Jesus Christ, or perhaps other sons of his [See Gen.6] visit Terra in peace, they can expect a warm welcome from thousands of satellite groups on earth.

My friends in heaven agree that this is something they need to thank earth for. They ask me to convey their thanks to the earthlings for 1) the honor we have directed towards heaven & its gods including above all God the Father, the prime Bilder; and 2) our acceptance, with them, of the moral imperatives.

The same principles and moral values that foster life in heaven work also on Terra. Where there is a selfish predatory jungle-animal spirit there will be war. Where there is war there will be desolation and loss of life. Luv and gratitude are essential ingredients of life. These have been taught & urged on the younger ones by wise parental men & women, in both worlds, since the beginning of time...against odds.

God and his holy family and close associates learned love & gratitude long ago. These qualities contributed mightily to the constructive activity that produced the earth....& that rebuilt it, in only 7 days, when jealous enemies destroyed it. More of that later in another Mission.
