MISSIV #101

JESUS BORN MOR THAN ONCE?

The buddhists, including the tibetan subgroup, beleev that a man – or an avatar - can cum into embodiment on erth mor than once. It has been suggested by sum cristians that the birth in Bethlemen was not the first time Christ had cum on erth. Wot du u think of this opinion?

The beleef in a preevius life for Christ focuses in particular on the life of David, the shepherd boy, son of Jesse. It is claimd – by the cristian Summit Lighthouse group among others – that Jesus came erlier as his ancestor David. They suggest that he may also hav cum as Gideon, the farmer-turnd warrior who braut down the walls of Jericho.

Wot evidence iz found for theze claims?

Tu begin with, the Bible dus not deny the possibility of the re-embodiment of a person. It iz not unthinkable or uncristian tu speculate that it may hav happend.

Jesus himself confirmd a case of re-embodiment. It had been predicted by the Jewish preests that the erlier grait proffet Elijah wud return to embodiment befor the cumming of the Messiah. Jesus coroborated this claim. He sed of John the Baptist, “I tel u that Elijah has alredy cum, but they did not kno him. but did tu him wotever they pleasd’. Then the disiples understood that he was speaking tu them of John the Baptist.” [Mt.17:12,13]. John, who was a cuzzin & close frend of Jesus, & had anounced his cumming as the Messiah & had told the world tu follo Jesus, had been behedded by Herod. One mite say that Elijah as John the Baptist was the first cristian marter.

Did Jesus say ennything tu contradict the idea ov his cumming into embodiment mor than once? On the contrary, sum of his words suggest it. In the first place his famous statement, “Befor Abraham was, I AM!”[Jn.8:58] and sum other words of his made clear that he had lived, at least in heven, a long time befor cumming into the galilean embodiment. He also told his followers “Other sheep I hav, that ar not of this fold; them also I must bring [Jn.10:16] This wud be a future job for him, maybe on erth, maybe not...maybe in heven, maybe in hel. And of corse we hav the promis that he wil return tu erth, wich he gave after his resurection.

The jist of it was that Jesus can cum and go at wil, in or out of this erth.

The Disgize: In one of his apearances after his rezurrection Jesus apeard tu 2 of his disiples as one hoom they did not recognize, even after walking & talking sum distance with him. We see him thare in disgize. Cud he not hav cum into embodiment a hoal series of times with a difrent name and persona, as an avatar? He wud certanly hav had that ability, & that privilege if he & his Father wishd.

Later I may share with u sum names under wich I am told Jesus has livd on erth; and we mite even talk of the possibility of God himself having had erthly embodiments. Stay with us for further revelacions as time goes on.
